

The 10 Powers of Love

The Ten Powers of Love are ten rights inherent in us as children of God, the Source of All Love. They empower us, through love, to live from our originally created state of love. This is how we put our love into motion. In other words, the Ten Powers of Love is a template for manifesting the love that we are on earth.

Living Life in the Ten Powers of Love fulfills the intention of God's will for us to live in personal freedom and fulfillment of who we are as unique creations of love. In so doing, we contribute our most essential piece of service toward the highest good of all. Together we co-create a shared reality of love-based living. The Ten Powers of Love are foundational to living in wholeness, unity, and harmony with self and others. The following are the Ten Powers of Love:

1. To Know Who We Are (the love that we are) – the unique essences of God's love that we bring to the whole
2. To Live Our Lives on Purpose, aligned with the love that we are
3. To Interpret Our Experience of Life
4. To Know What is Important to Us (our values based on our love)
5. To Know When Life is Working for Us (aligned with our love)
6. To Approach Life with a Sense of Wonderment and Discovery
7. To Innovate From the Uniqueness of Our Love (inspired knowing)
8. To Have Free Will (to experience life in support of our love and values)
9. To Make Our Own Decisions so that Life Works for Us
10. To Bring Our Innovations into Manifestation (personal expression that fulfills us and edifies others, therefore serving the whole)

Each of these ten powers is meant to be an expression of our love. Each one has also been distorted to become an expression of our ego when it is influenced by fear. How do we know the difference? We can start by asking ourselves the following questions:

1. Do I personally feel fulfilled?
2. Am I guided by my heart?
3. Is Love my motivating force in life?
4. Does the living of my life serve the higher good and well-being of others?

Don't be alarmed if you feel off in some or all of these areas. Most people do. We are used to living under the controls, expectations, and limitations that have been placed upon us by ourselves, others, and society. One of the ways to live in greater love and freedom is by using the Tools of Change – seven aspects of God's love that move us out of fear and control to a greater understanding of who we are and why we are here. Spending five minutes a day with them can be very beneficial.

You may download the FREE PDF's of the Tools of Change and this document at www.bridgesofunity.com/downloads/. More is written about them on our blog at www.bridgesofunity.com/blog/.